Boston. Houses. Jones, Thomas Kilby

Built a mansion, "Grove Hall", in Roxbury in 1800. "In 1832 the house was enlarged and used as a summer hotel. Later it was occupied by Dr. Cullis who made it a consumptives' home. The present buildings were built only a few years ago!" Original name of Jones house supposedly gave the area (i.e., Grove Hall) its name.

Boston. Houses. Jones, Thomas Kilby

"The Grove Hall Mansion, built in the year 1800, and for many years the residence of Thomas Kilby Jones, a Boston merchant, was remodelled a few years since, and is now known as the "Consumptives' Home." Situated at the intersection of Washington Street and Blue Hill, formerly Grove Hall Ave., it occupies a conspicuous and sightly position, and is surrounded with ample grounds. The estate of ten acres, originally the homestead of Samuel Payson, was owned by John Goddard early in the las century. It was  afterwards the site of

Blt. 1760; 1775-76

Orig. blt for Joshue Loring, commander of the British campaign against the French on Lakes George, Champlain and Ontario. In 1775, he was appointed to the Governor's Council but was ill-treated & was forced to evacuate in March 1776 along w/other Tories led by Gen. Howe. Revolutionaries seized the house & for a brief period in June 1776, Gen. Nathaniel Greene made the house his hdqrtrs. & a military hospital. In 1784 a wealthy widow, Anne Doane, purchased the house & later married David Stoddard Greenough, whose family kept the house until 1924. It is almost square, 2-story structure w/hipped roof, dormers on the north & south & 2 massive chimneys on the east & west sides. Private. On the National Register. Ref: N.R. Suppl.
